

as a consumer I see absolutly no advantage to limiting the marketplace of "local"radio broadcasting. I believe terestrial radio should have to compete straight up against satellite radio services like XM and Sirrus. I worry about any attempts to censure content in anyway, local or national, and encourage you to let the marketplace decide.